Honor in Evony is pretty easy to get, and also pretty easy to lose quickly. The more honor you have the easier it is to lose it. You can even lose honor when you're winning your battles. Here I'll give a few tips on honor in Evony, how to gain honor points and stop losing them.

You gain honor points by killing the troops or fortifications of other players, killing NPC troops will not give you any honor at all, but the NPCs might give you prestige. Anyways, the more enemy troops you kill the more honor you get. However, when you get your own troops killed in battle you lose honor, so you have to both win the battle and lose less troops than your enemy to gain honor in the battle. More expensive troops are worth more when it comes to honor.

How much honor you gain also seem to depend on the other players honor and prestige as well as your own. It seems you can gain a lot more honor from a player that already has a lot. Attacking players with 0 honor will still give you some honor points, but not as much as attacking a player with high honor ranking would do.

You also gain honor in scout missions if you happen to kill enemy scouts. This can actually be a good way to gain some easy honor points if you happen to have a lot of scouts. Another easy way to gain honor is to kill enemy fortifications with ballistas. Loosing no troops while killing lots of enemy archer towers will give you quite a lot of honor points, even from weaker players. Feel free to leave comments..
